Controversy Marks Pulitzer Award

NEW YORK (AP) — R. John Hughes of the Christian Science Monitor has won the 1967 Pulitzer Prize for international reporting despite a jury panel's recommendation that the award go to Harrison Salisbury of the New York Times.

The award announcement Monday promptly touched off a controversy after a source disclosed the jury panel voted 4-1 to honor Salisbury for his dispatches from North Vietnam.

Instead the panel was overruled by the Pulitzer Prize advisory board which voted 6-5 against Salisbury, reportedly because his original dispatches failed to give the source of listed casualty figures.

In turn the trustees of Columbia University upheld the board and went along with the recommendation that Hughes—the second choice of the jury panel—be honored for his coverage of the attempted Communist coup in Indonesia and the purges that ensued.

Salisbury, a Pulitzer winner in the same category 12 years ago, commented, "I put the opinion of the editors of the Times above any jurors. If the Times thinks my stuff is good, I put that above the Pulitzer or anything else."

There was no immediate comment from Hughes on the controversy but Michael J. Ogden, a member of the five-man panel, said he stood by the majority vote for Salisbury.

Ogden said there were technical defects in the Salisbury dispatches but that their "impact and general over-all effect" far outweighed other considerations.

Announcement of the prizes was held up 90 minutes by the controversy over the international reporting award.

The award for news photography went to Jack R. Thornell of The Associated Press for his picture showing James H. Meredith being shot while on a civil rights march through Mississippi.

Edward Albee, whose failure to receive a Pulitzer Prize in 1963 led to the resignation of three drama prize jurors, won the drama award this year for his latest play, "A Delicate Balance."

The play deals with a middle-aged couple whose lives are upset by fearful friends and maladjusted neighbors.

The prize for fiction went to Bernard Malamud for "The Fixer" written on the theme of anti-Jewish persecutions in czarist Russia. It also won the National Book Award in March. "I'm glad to have this attention focused on the book," Malamud, 53, said in Cambridge, Mass., after learning of the award. "I'm afraid though, it won't make me a better writer."

The prize for meritorious public service by a newspaper was shared by the Milwaukee Journal and the Louisville Courier-Journal. It was the second award in the category for the Milwaukee paper which previously won in 1919.

This time the paper was cited for "its successful campaign to stiffen the laws against water pollution in Wisconsin."

The Louisville Courier-Journal won "for its successful campaign to control the Kentucky strip mine industry, a notable advance in the national effort for the conservation of natural resources."

U.S. Reduces Its Forces In West Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, in agreement with Britain and West Germany, announced today plans to withdraw up to 35,000 of its armed forces and four squadrons of combat planes from West Germany.

Johnson administration officials estimated the transfer of soldiers and Air Force personnel—together with thousands of dependents, to bases in the United States—would mean saving of around $100 million in the next year.

The troops and planes are part of the U.S. commitment to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The agreement now must go to the NATO Defense Planning Committee.

To try to balance out other costs West Germany has agreed to invest $500 million in medium-term government securities between July 7, 1967, and June 1968.

In addition West Germany will spend an estimated $300 million in U.S. military equipment.

Under the same three-way plan, Britain would withdraw one brigade of 5,000 men and one squadron of aircraft to reduce its costs. West Germany would agree to purchase about $150 million worth of military and civilian goods in Britain. The United States will purchase an additional $19.6 million of military equipment in Britain from April 1, 1967, to March 31, 1968.

Red Air Force Dealt Worst Blows Of War

Guerrillas Are Real Viet War Issue—Romney

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan has described U.S. involvement in Vietnam as unfortunate but imperative and has spoken out against dissenters.

The Republican presidential hopeful, in Atlanta Monday for a whirlwind speaking tour, said at Emory University American prestige is on the line in Vietnam and that withdrawal is wrong.

Romney also told students, "I don't think we should pursue a way that will weaken the President as long as he's President, and I don't think we should pursue a course that will help the enemy."

The Michigan governor's response was warm, marked by prolonged applause from the predominantly white audience at Emory after choruses of boos mixed with applause at Morehouse College, dominantly Negro, during a discussion on Vietnam.

At Emory, a student asked Romney: "Do you believe the invisible hand of God is directing our policy in Vietnam and that God is on our side?"

"I think if we had followed the invisible hand of God in Vietnam," Romney replied, "we would not now be involved. He then outlined his reasons for supporting American involvement now."

"Every American citizen should weigh very carefully his statements and his conduct as it relates to that fateful situation," Romney said.

Romney said he questioned whether the war could be resolved by hammering at North Vietnam. The central issue, he said, is whether the Viet Cong guerrilla structure can be destroyed.

He wound up at Morehouse defending his Mormon faith, which does not allow Negroes to serve in the priesthood. Romney urged the students to judge him on his civil rights record, not his religion.

Romney Keeps Doyle, Rudolph On Commission

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today made two reappointments to the Mackinac Island State Park Commission and one to the State Tourist Council.

Renamed to the Mackinac Island Commission were Wilfred Doyle of East Lansing, a former state senator and commission member since 1939, and Mrs. Hugh Rudolph, a resident of Mackinac Island and commission member since 1957.

Both will serve for terms expiring April 12, 1973.

Creighton Holden of St. Clair, president of the St. Clair Inn and Country Club, was reappointed to the Tourists Council for a term ending April 18, 1972. He is a past president of the Michigan Hotel and Motel Association.

All the appointments require Senate confirmation.

Congress Waits LBJ Plan For Rail Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, after again delaying a threatened nationwide rail strike, waited today for President Johnson to recommend legislation to settle the wage dispute once and for all.

While Johnson gave no advance hint of his plan, the railroads argued against government seizure of the industry and a union spokesman warned against a "police state" compulsory settlement.

Several members of Congress have said they voted for Monday's 47-day strike delay only because Johnson promised to propose a bill to settle permanently the drawn-out dispute. The delay was approved 72 to 2 in the Senate and 301 to 56 in the House.

The White House has made it clear Johnson's proposal will deal only with this dispute, not the general question of major nationwide strikes.

An earlier congressional measure delaying the strike deadline for 20 days would have expired at 12:10 a.m. Wednesday.

Six shop unions had set that time for their threatened strike against 90 per cent of the nation's major rail lines.

"What gets more attention in Congress—the profits of the great corporations or the rights of American working men?" asked union spokesman Michael Fox.

Fox, president of the AFL-CIO Railway Employees Department, said the railroads want Congress to impose compulsory arbitration to settle the dispute.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ships from only nine non-Communist nations continue to visit Cuban ports, an exile organization said today in its annual report.

Revolutionary Unity, which has kept records on such shipping since 1963, said five of them—Great Britain, Greece, Cyprus, Lebanon and Italy—accounted for 90.9 per cent of the 1966 shipping. The other countries were listed as Finland, France, Malta and Monaco.

"Netherlands, Israel, Kuwait, Morocco and Haiti, have withdrawn from the maritime fifth column," the anti-Castro organization reported.

British ships, numbering 98, led the list of 209 visiting Cuba in 1966, the report said. The overall total was reported having dwindled from 358 in 1963, 341 in 1964, and 260 in 1965.

Hanoi radio claimed the North Vietnamese air force shot down three U.S. planes Monday when ground forces downed a fourth during the record day of MIG kills. But the U.S. command did not announce any losses for the day, and a spokesman refused to comment on a Peking claim that the Red Chinese air force shot down two Navy A-1H Skyhawks over the Chinese mainland Monday.

Peking made a similar claim of downing two American planes over South China April 24, a claim which the U.S. command in Saigon denied at the time. The Chinese also claimed April 29 that they brought down a pilotless American reconnaissance plane.

The record American MIG kills were made during raids on the MIG air bases at Kien and Hoa Lac, near Hanoi, targets which were hit last week for the first time in the war.

Navy pilots said they spotted seven MIGs on the airfield. They claimed they destroyed three of them, damaged another and heavily damaged the field and its support facilities. In the first attack on Kep April 21, there apparently were no MIGs on the ground.

U.S. Fighters Destroy Eleven MIG 17 Craft

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers inflicted the heaviest aircraft destruction of the war on North Vietnam Monday, destroying 11 Communist MIG17 interceptors in the air and on the ground, the American command reported today.

As the North took another pounding in the intensified air war, heavy fighting flared across South Vietnam from the central highlands to the Mekong Delta. American infantrymen suffered their heaviest losses in the delta fighting, where 16 were killed and 40 wounded.

The ground forces were supported by fighter-bombers that attacked Communist positions in the South with a record 625 sorties Monday.

In a delayed report, the American command announced the loss of three U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs during raids over North Vietnam Sunday, including two shot down by MIG21s and one from unknown causes. The four crewmen were listed as missing. This brought to 528 the number of American planes reported lost over North Vietnam, including 15 shot down by MIGs.

Driver Dispute Cuts Chicago Milk Supply

CHICAGO (AP) — A dispute between dairies and their drivers caused a rush of shoppers Monday that virtually exhausted supplies of fresh milk throughout the Chicago area.

A strike by the Chicago Milk Wagon Drivers Union against a single dairy resulted in a lock-out of delivermen and inside workers by about 50 dairies affiliated with two trade associations. The "strike one-strike all" agreement among the dairies halted deliveries to all retail outlets.

Retail stores reported depletion of milk and milk products Monday evening despite efforts of store operators to spread supplies by limiting purchases.

Deliveries to hospitals continued under special arrangements but not to most schools, stores, restaurants, hotels or homes.

The lockout by the Associated Milk Dealers, Inc., and the Chicago Area Dairymen's Association was in retaliation for a strike called by the drivers' union against the Dean Foods Co., a major producer of dairy products.

Thomas J. Haggerty, secretary-treasurer of Local 753 of the drivers union, said the walk-out was called because Dean eliminated 15 routes after the union's contract with the firm expired Sunday night.

British Police Hunt For $2.1 Million Stolen Gold

LONDON (AP) — British police watched a report and alerted ships at sea today for traces of a gas-gang who hijacked gold bars worth $2.1 million. It was Britain's biggest bullion theft.

A reward of $140,000 was offered by insurance a source for information leading to recovery of the 140 gold bars weighing more than 1 1/2 tons, and capture of the bandits.

The gold robbery, staged with speed and precision at noon in a London street Monday, was the most lucrative theft in Britain since the Great Train Robbery netted more than $7 million nearly four years ago.

A Dutch freighter which sailed from London soon after the robbery was boarded by police and customs men in the Thames Estuary after an underwater tip that the loot was aboard. No gold was found.

Other ships that left Britain after the bullion haul were contacted by radio and told to check their cargoes.

The international police organization, Interpol, was asked to keep watch at docks and airports overseas. British police said attempts might be made to smuggle the gold to the Far East because it would bring a higher price there.

Scotland Yard said that at least six and possibly 10 bandits made the swift raid on an armored truck delivering bullion for the London Merchant Bank of N.M. Rothschild.

They scattered ammunition as the robbery was discovered when four women passing by heard the guards shouting for help inside the parked truck.

Escanaba Lions Elect Peterson

Walter Peterson, 711 S. 10th St., was elected president of the Escanaba Lions Club for the 1967-68 year Monday night at the Sherman Hotel.

He will succeed Donald Brault.

Other officers elected by the club were Fred Saykly, 1st vice president; Dennis Foltman, 2nd vice president; August Brazeau, 3rd vice president; William Perron, treasurer; and Dave Andrews, Lion tamer.

Ronald DeVos and Gary Barton were elected to serve two-year terms on the Board of Directors, joining Dr. M. H. Garrard and Jim Hall, who have one year to serve.

T. E. Anderson of Newberry, district engineer for the Michigan Highway Dept., told the club he sees no advancement in the Oct. 1, 1970, date for the letting of bids on the 4.5 mile Gladstone to Rapid River four-lane highway project.

The job, originally estimated to cost $4,020,000 if bids were let as scheduled this year, will probably cost about $5 million because of increasing construction costs by the time it is bid in 1970, Anderson said.

Plants, Trees Need OK Tags

The Michigan Department of Agriculture warns that it is necessary to have all nursery stock inspected and certified free of harmful insects and plant diseases prior to moving the stock.

"Nursery stock" means all trees, shrubs, vines and plants, either domesticated or wild, with the roots attached.

This material has to be certified by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division, Act 189 of Public Acts of 1931 set up the provisions to regulate the sale, distribution, and transportation of plants.

Pest-free areas can become infested by transporting uncertified materials from areas that are infested, explains Norman Remington of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

"Often law enforcement officers stop persons transporting such material, and these difficulties can be avoided if a certificate of inspection covers the stock being transported," said Remington.

Inspections can be arranged by contacting the branch office of the Michigan Department of Agriculture in Escanaba at 786-5462.

It is also illegal for private individuals to remove plants, shrubs, or trees from roadsides or public-owned lands anywhere in the state or even from private land unless they can show proof of ownership or have a bill of sale in their possession to cover the plants, even if cut.

Gribble Must Leave Board

HERMANVILLE—James E. Gribble, who is completing a four year term on the Hermansville School Board, and three years as president of the board, says that he cannot be a candidate for reelection because of the conflict of interest statute.

Gribble is executive vice president and cashier of the First National Bank of Hermansville, which depository for all Hermansville public school funds. Because of recent action on the conflict of interest statute he will be forced to withdraw from the school board at the end of his term on June 30.

Gribble said that he had hoped to continue his services on the board until the present plans for re-organization of the local school system had been made and a new school building erected in Hermansville, but under the conflict of interest statute effective March 10, 1967 it would not be legal for him to run for reelection.

Attorney General Kelly's opinion concerned Article 4, Section 10, of the Constitution which he interpreted as preventing bank officials from serving on any public school boards if their bank is a depository of the public school funds.

Senate Bill 306 which has passed the Senate would allow officers of financial institutions to serve as officers of local governmental units but it specifically prohibits bank officials from participating in decision-making which results in the deposit of funds. Nor would he be able to participate in decisions regarding the making of a loan.

Two vacancies on the board at the end of June will have to be filled at the next election and petitions for prospective trustees should be filed with Secretary of the Board Lester L. Johnson, Hermansville by May 12.

Campaign Aid 5th Vote Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fifth vote on the presidential election campaign financing issue, source of a bitter, six-week Senate floor battle, may finally end the struggle.

The Senate already has voted four times on the issue with each side winning twice. Each side predicted victory in today's scheduled fifth vote.

Strong sentiment was building up to end delay in acting on the business incentives tax bill which has been the vehicle for various riders concerning the election subsidy plan.

The tax measure would restore the seven per cent investment credit on machinery and equipment.

Hospital Award

CHICAGO (AP) — Bernard E. Lorimer, administrator of Midland, Mich., Hospital, received the Key Award Monday during the opening session of the Tri-State Hospital Assembly's 37th annual meeting. The award is by the assembly.

Lorimer, administrator at Midland Hospital for 22 years, was cited for "a continuing concern for the recruitment and education of those who would seek a professional career in the hospital field."

Kirtland Warbler Return Due Soon

By BOB VOGES

MIO (AP)—Michigan's unique and most precious bird — the Kirtland's warbler—will be returning to the state by the end of this week or next.

The tiny song birds are not spectacular. But they are precious in that it is estimated that only about 1,000 are left.

They are unique because they only will nest in a small area of Michigan where conditions are ideal for survival.

The birds are fussy about where they rear their young. They build their nests only among jack pines 10 to 15 feet tall. They prefer a location where the young pines are nearly touching each other and they build the nest at the base of the tree.

Every spring the birds return to the jack pine country in the northeastern section of the Lower Peninsula.

Protest Nesting Sites

The federal government has set aside a section near Mio to protect them. The State Conservation Department also worries about the birds and has three protected nesting areas.

The Kirtland's warbler, like all song birds, are protected. But because of their scarcity, both departments have carried on a program of tree planting to aid their fight for survival.

The little bird is a bluish grey color with a breast of bright yellow with spots on the side. It is more easily spotted by its song than by sight, however.

The male only gives out a shrill, warbling whistle. This is quite unlike the soft trill of most birds in the warbler family.

The whistle is believed to be used as a courtship call and also as a signal by the male bird to warn other males off his territory.

Bird watchers and lovers come from all over the country to observe Michigan's warbler during the brief season the migratory birds remain here.

Winter In Bahamas

The warblers spend their winters in the Bahamas. They arrive in Michigan in the late spring and leave in the early fall, staying only long enough to rear their young.

The story of the identification of the warbler as a unique species and the discovery of its Michigan nesting ground reads like a detective thriller.

An Ohio naturalist, Dr. Jared Kirtland, first identified the bird as a separate species. The bird actually was discovered by a Charles Pease on the Kirtland farm, near Cleveland and the Lake Erie shore, in 1851.

He gave the bird to Kirtland, his father-in-law, who achieved immortality by naming it.

Years later, it was found that a specimen of the same bird had been taken in 1841 by a collector aboard a ship passing by Cuba. The bird never was identified, however, and remained ignored in a museum until it was rediscovered.

A pair of trout fishermen collected the first known species in Michigan.

In 1903, E. B. Forthingham of the University of Michigan Museum staff was on a fishing trip and heard a bird song he didn't recognize. A friend, T. G. Gale, shot the bird for identification purposes.

Number About 1,000

Norman Wood, the museum curator, is credited with making the discovery that summer that the warbler nested in Michigan. Wood took a train to Roscommon and rowed 60 miles down the Au Sable River to look for the nesting spot.

Wood found his first warbler nest on July 8, 1903 in the western part of Oscoda County, near the Crawford County line.

There were some fears that hurricanes in the Bahamas several years ago might have taken a toll of the birds.

But although an accurate count is difficult, it is estimated that the same number — 1,000 birds—returned to Michigan last year.

It is hoped that the brave 1,000 — or perhaps more — will make the flight successfully again this year. And in years and years to come.

Hermansville

Forest Soils Under Survey

This spring will mark the completion of the field work for the Delta County and Western Unit of the Hiawatha National Forest Soil Survey.

Of the 1,120,000 acres in Alger, Delta, and Schoolcraft counties that are in the survey area, only 28,000 acres remain to be mapped. The final acre will be mapped sometime in late June, said Jack Kreiner, Soil conservationist.

There are many kinds of soil in the survey area. Some are shallow and some are deep. Some are stony and some are not. Some can safely support a housing development or an airport and others can't.

A soil survey explores the limitations of land for specific uses. Increasing numbers of farmers, foresters, engineers, urban planners, land appraisers, and others are using them in their work, he explained.

The completed soil survey is published. Copies are sent to all agencies that helped or have need of the report. It goes to farmers, foresters, county agents, land developers, real estate offices, highway engineers, libraries, planning boards, and fish and game officials—in fact all who work with the land.

Publication of the Delta County and Western Unit of the Hiawatha National Forest Soil Survey is still a couple years away, although the field work will be finished this spring. Final compilation of data, review of the manuscript by editors and transferring of field work to base maps by cartographers is scheduled. In the interim, all the soils information and maps will be available at the local Soil Conservation Service office, Kreiner said.

Kriener Named To Soil District

The new head of the Soil Conservation Service operation in Delta County is Jack Kreiner, who has arrived here from Oakland County to serve as work unit conservationist.

Kreiner succeeds Irwin Ten Haken, for many years soil conservationist in Delta County, who has moved to Portage, Wis.

Kreiner comes here from Pontiac in Oakland County where he was soil conservationist for seven months and immediately prior to that was at Adrian in Lenawee County. He has been with the Soil Conservation Service for two and one-half years, including one year of training.

A native of Lapeer County, Mich., where he was born Dec. 7, 1924, Kreiner received his Bachelor of Science degree in animal husbandry from Michigan State University in 1950.

He taught vocational agriculture for several years in schools in the Thumb District downstate.

He received his Master of Arts degree from Michigan State University in 1960, and has also taught biology and the physical sciences. He is unmarried.

Kreiner is a member of the Soil Conservation Society of America and the Knights of Columbus. He will reside in Escanaba.

Elvis Marries At Las Vegas

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Elvis Presley, who waited to marry until he was 32 and a millionaire, was honeymooning today with his 21-year-old bride.

The actor-singer and Priscilla Beaulieu, his longtime girlfriend, slipped off to Las Vegas, Nev., to marry Monday.

"Well, I guess it was about time," Presley joked later.

"With the life I had, I decided it would be best to wait. You know, all of the shows and record engagements."

After parlaying a guitar and a hip-swinging rock 'n' roll style into a fabulous motion picture and record career, Presley met Miss Beaulieu in Germany when he was a drafted soldier in 1959.

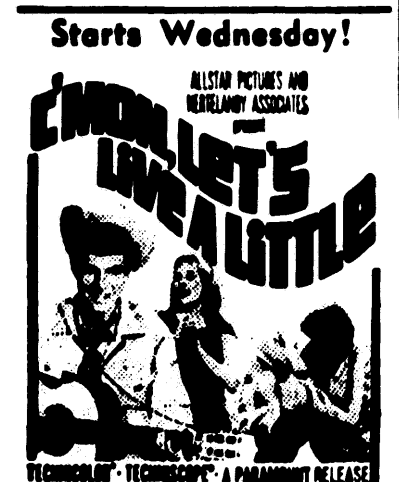

She is the daughter of Army Lt. Col. and Mrs. Joseph Beaulieu, formerly of Memphis, Tenn., Presley's home town.

Supreme Court Justice David Zenoff of Nevada performed the wedding ceremony before 14 guests in a Las Vegas hotel suite. Later, the newlyweds held a champagne breakfast for 100 guests.

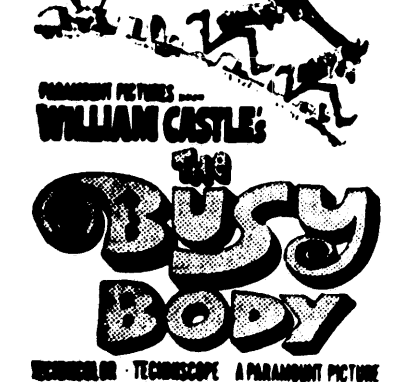

By chartered plane, the Presleys returned to Palm Springs where they have a $500,000 hillside home.

Neither would say if they planned to go elsewhere.

College Is Worth Million A Year

Bay de Noc Community College, preparing for a campaign for two mills in an election on June 26, today reported the results of a study of the institution's economic contribution to the Delta County community.

The report states that in the current fiscal year the college contributed over $1 million to Delta County. These contributions are in the form of student, faculty and administrative expenditures as well as state and federal government funds to the college.

According to the study, the college contributed $1,027,226 in the 1966-67 fiscal year to Delta County. Of this figure, some $263,384 comes from the state and federal government.

The college receives $335 from the state and $22 from the federal government for each student per year. There were 382 equated full time students enrolled this year, which means a total of $136,374 or about a third of the college's operating budget funded in this manner.

Sale Aid

In addition, the college received $20,000 for capital outlay expenses from the government this past year. Another $47,000 was paid the college by the federal government for the work study program and government support of two practical nursing programs for 50 students brought in $60,000. "Of course, local taxpayers are indirectly paying for this state and federal revenue," said College President Richard Rinehart. "However, if the college was not, these same taxes would finance a higher education institution somewhere else."

Some 51 Delta County residents form the college faculty, staff and administration. Combined contract salaries for this group totals $267,252 per year.

Twenty-nine administrative officers and faculty draw salaries totaling $224,200, while seven staff members' salaries run a total of $36,192 per year. Another 15 part-time faculty earn a combined $6,860 per year.

Faculty Spending

All college faculty staff and administration live in the county and most are home owners.

"Students attending Bay de Noc Community College are another economic boom to the community," the report states. The average Delta County student spends about $1,142 in two semesters at the college.

Non-resident students spend even more; their average expenses for two semesters run about $1,406. The biggest difference in these expenses is for housing costs away from home.

The average Delta County student spends about $192 for tuition and fees, $300 for housing (most students away from Escanaba live close to campus five days a week), $450 for personal expenses, books, and entertainment and $200 for travel.

Using the number of equated full time students this past year, this brings total students' expenditures for the 1966-67 school year to $496,600.

Money Kept Home

"The significant point about these students' expenses is that money is being kept in the community," said Leo Alperovitz, business director for the college. "Without the college here, these students would be taking these funds out of town and spending them on another campus."

Dr. Rinehart noted that it's "virtually impossible to find out how much Delta County parents and students are saving by being able to attend a local college rather than going away to another campus."

Rinehart also stated that local industry is aided economically by being able to employ skilled students and graduates of the college's vocational-technical programs each year. He added that with the proposed building program, some $500,000 per year for a four year period would be spent locally for construction and other capital outlay costs.

Oregon produces 28 per cent of the wood shingles used in the United States, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

June Call Is For 1,174 Men

LANSING (AP) — Michigan draft boards will order 1,174 registrants to report for regular induction into the Army in June — the largest draft call since last November when 2,923 registrants were called.

In addition to those reporting for regular induction, 162 limited service registrants who are now acceptable under Defense Department standards will be called, said Col. Arthur A. Holmes, State Selective Service director.

Holmes said preinduction physical examinations will be resumed during May and June. The exams had not been held since January due to lack of funds.

Induction calls are being filled with volunteers and single registrants and those married after Aug. 26, 1965, ages 19 through 25, with the oldest available registrant selected first.

The May call totaled 1,009. The draft call: Alger 6, Baraga 3, Chippewa 1, Delta 2, Dickinson 6, Gogebic 4, Houghton 9, Iron 5, Keweenaw 1, Luce 3, Mackinac 5, Marquette 15, Menominee 4, Ontonagon 1, and Schoolcraft 3.

Car Makers Aim At 6-Month High

DETROIT (AP) — U. S. auto companies began May production Monday with a target of 758,000 cars which would be the biggest output in six months.

Strong sales reports for the first 20 days of April had caused renewed confidence in Detroit's automotive circles and led to increases in originally contemplated production goals.

The May figure, if attained, would be the biggest output for domestic auto firms since last November when they built nearly 834,000 cars.

It compared with the 657,723 cars built in April and with the 795,166 car output of May 1966.

The increases in production quotas was not an across the line proposition, but rather reportedly was restricted to lines which were in relatively short or long supply, including the Pontiac Tempest, Cadillac standard Ford, standard Chevrolet, Belvedere, Fury and Chrysler American Motors was still operating on a reduced work pace this week as it juggled its assembly operations around to Wednesday.

Builder Strikes Hit 6 Counties

DETROIT (AP) — Some 3,300 members of two building trades unions began strikes Monday that could cripple construction in six southeastern Michigan counties.

Residential and commercial construction projects were threatened by the walkout of 2,550 members of Sheet Metal Workers Local 80 and 800 members of the Resilient Floor Coverers Local 2265.

The sheet metal workers install heating and air conditioning fixtures. The floor layers put down tile, linoleum and carpeting.

Contracts between the unions and contractors expired Monday.

No further bargaining sessions were scheduled between contractors and the striking locals.

Stalemates over wage rates reportedly resulted in suspension of negotiations.

Bargaining For Police

A trial examiner for the State Labor Mediation Board has ruled that the City of Escanaba's policemen can be represented by the Teamsters Union. The City of Escanaba is appealing the State Labor Mediation Board ruling to the Michigan Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court may well rule as the Labor Mediation Board did, because it will be interpreting the law and Act 379, passed by the Legislature last year, is a bad law. The City of Escanaba's contest is really with the Michigan Legislature, which has been asked in its present session to amend Act 379. The Legislature appears to be floundering as it was when it passed the act, and unable to agree effectively on the bargaining rights of municipal workers.

Act 379 authorizes municipal workers to be represented in bargaining on wages and working conditions by a union of their choice. There's no provision for some other arrangement in cases of conflict of interest, as in this instance. What, for instance, is the image of a Teamster police department policing a Teamster strike?

There's also a provision in Act 379 that municipal employees aren't to strike, but it's worthless, as was indicated by a spokesman for the Michigan Education Association to the Labor Committee of the Michigan House of Representatives in Escanaba. He would give no pledge that teachers wouldn't strike.

Our Michigan legislators, who regard Act 379 as a bundle of dynamite because it affects unionism, didn't have the gumption to enact a good law on bargaining for municipal employees and now they seem lacking in what it takes to remedy their fumble.

Some of them expressed dismay that the City of Escanaba did not make a larger representation of the municipal interest at the time the House Labor Committee conducted a public hearing on bargaining legislation in Escanaba. The city's representatives, City Attorney John G. Erickson and Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe, were outnumbered by the spokesmen for the Teamsters and the Michigan Education Association.

Erickson, said to the House Labor Committee: "The question of who should represent police officers in collective bargaining has raised a vital question of conflict of interest. By the very nature of his work, a police officer is required to be impartial and unbiased in his dealings with the public."

"Picture a union picket line where violence has broken out and police are called. Where does loyalty lie? Will the police uphold the oath to preserve peace and order, or their oath to the Union to further and obey its directives?"

Erickson cited Michigan State Supreme Court rulings that "police employees must be responsible to the council and must be under its direction, free from the obligation of any other allegiance whatsoever, so far as their activities as policemen are concerned."

"The position of the City of Escanaba that the Police Department should not have as its bargaining agent any labor union that includes outside interest or membership or any personnel other than law enforcement officers is the position that the Michigan Legislature should enact into law."

This position is unassailable in our view. It strengthens unionism by keeping it in proper channels and does not embarrass it by confronting its members with a command to serve two masters in a public controversy. It strengthens the public image of democratic government at a time when it can stand more prestige. It gives citizens the feeling that there is security in our protection system.

And it is agonizing for courageous and right minded municipal officials to have the Legislature cavalierly sign away all these protections in its hasty assurance to municipal workers that they are to be permitted to use pressure processes to increase their pay. There is no possible sense in condemning municipal workers to pay lower than that for other worker groups with comparable skills, but there certainly are some considerations to be attended in this process.

Some of these municipal workers are in strategic services like utilities, health services, policing and fire protection where human life hangs on uninterrupted operations. Act 379 makes only an impotent gesture in this direction. It's so sloppy that it can only work an eventual injury on unionism, which this country needs critically to avoid the chaos of bureaucratic efforts at mediation.

Escanaba has seen an inspiring display of courage by its City Council in insisting that its police have a police type union represent them in bargaining. Our Council is strongly oriented toward labor and its interests, so it took both wisdom and guts for it to adopt its present stand. It is certain to prevail in an eventual accounting of proper policy. It is regrettable that the Michigan Legislature writes such bad law, and that the Labor Mediation Board says: "That's the law, obey it." Five men elected by the citizens of Escanaba to represent them say it isn't a law. A law, as St. Thomas said, "is an ordinance of reason." Not Act 379.

Escanaba High School's first intra-squad track meet was held yesterday with all of the participants showing promise for a good season. Gene Harris, John Urbane and Clarence Grabowski stood out in the distance runs; the pole vaulters, especially Bill Stoll and Ronald Rouse, were reported to be in fine shape; and George Shomin set a record in the broad jump competition. Some of the other track men who excelled were Ed Gauthier, Bob Dufresne and Dick Bowers.

Father Kenneth Ryan, Editor
Catholic Digest

I was very much disappointed to hear that you had reprinted the article originally published in the Credit Union Magazine in a recent issue of Catholic Digest. The original article contained many inaccuracies in reporting and certainly gave the Escanaba area an image it did not deserve. For some reason or other, whoever finally wrote the article in the Credit Union Magazine felt a great need to paint the usual stereotype of the Upper Peninsula of a country that is covered with ice and snow for nine months of the year. This stereotype certainly is not true.

While we do appreciate the mention that was made of our Marriage Enrichment Program, we would strongly urge that you check more carefully your source materials before printing future articles. It has always been my impression that Catholic Digest has resisted the urge to print the kind of sensational inaccuracies evidenced in the original Credit Union article.

Urban G. Steinmetz, director
Family Life Bureau

To the Hon. L. B. Johnson, President of the United States. I feel that as a citizen of our beloved country I am long overdue in writing to you and thanking you for your tireless efforts, work, and prayers in defense of our American heritage under conditions that no former President had too contended with.

I have seen expressed in the headlines of our Free American newspaper thoughts and opinions that would be considered acts of treason at any time in our past history. Especially during times of national emergency.

Any person with an eighth grade knowledge of our American history knows that when our soldiers, sailors, marines, and Air Force are fighting a common enemy that all citizens are expected to unite behind their Commander-in-Chief in an all out effort for victory. Also they know that communism is an avowed enemy of free government.

Freedom of the press—freedom of religion—freedom of election of our leaders. In fact the expressions of opinions, thoughts, and demonstrations that are rampant in our country today would be dealt with by execution under a communist form of government—in fact of just being accused of being unpatriotic.

It is no wonder that our brave and honorable service men are bewildered when headlines in our newspapers—news commentators on radio and TV—and politicians making statements and expressing opinions that give aid and support to the enemy that they and their country is fighting.

In fact, in my opinion, they are doing more damage to them than the Communist guerrillas. It wasn't many years ago—and we were not at war with the communists at the time—that if a person expressed a Christian thought for communism, that a person was labeled a "pink."

I can see now how a handful of communists can take control of a free country when all the methods of forming public opinion are guided and controlled by selfish interests, or unthinking persons, instead of statesmanship and love of country.

The slogan expressed by the original 13 colonies still holds true—"United We Stand—Divided We Fall".

I feel that a show of undivided moral support and backing from all the citizens of the United States will do a lot more towards an early and honorable peace than any cease fire, which has only played to the advantage of the enemy.

You have my prayers and support. Thanks again.

Some professors with great prestige in leading U. S. universities argue that if the United States had managed things better there would be no war in Vietnam.

They say we should have encouraged Ho Chi Minh instead of fighting him and then, they say, he might well have divorced himself from Russia and Red China. Some of them say he was not really a Communist, anyway, but was leader of a "truly" nationalist revolt against the French.

Instead of aiding the French to stay in Indochina, they assert, we should have worked to get the French out.

Some of these allegations by the professors just don't happen to be true. Ho Chi Minh was helped by the United States in the war against the Japanese. The actual disarming of the Japanese in North Indochina was done under the auspices of the United States in consultation with Ho Chi Minh.

So long as the United States was convinced that Ho's movement was a genuinely nationalist movement, the United States gave him encouragement. This reporter was in background sessions with top officials of the U. S. government in the period after World War II when the French had returned to Indochina.

These U. S. officials, including ranking cabinet members, were attempting to talk the French into leaving Indochina. (At the same time, they were talking to the British about leaving India and to the Netherlands government about leaving the Dutch East Indies to the peoples of those territories.)

This reporter remembers, as though it were yesterday, the frustration of U. S. officials at the French attitude. There were times the Americans felt they had the French talked into leaving. Then Paris would do a turnaround.

But in the end the French left. They were not defeated. Dien Bien Phu was not a critical loss. It was a blunder but not an irreparable blow.

But the French had learned, when they asked for U. S. intervention at Dien Bien Phu, that the United States would not bolster them in Indochina and that our officials meant it when they privately asked the French to leave.

Late in this period it became evident that what had started out as a national Indochinese revolution against the French was being subverted into a Communist take-over. The revolution had attracted a wide variety of patriotic young men. The Communists were a minority. Toward the end, however, Ho managed to weed out the non-Communists from the top revolutionary posts. The revolution, which had been won through the efforts of many patriots, was then taken over by Ho's Red henchmen in one of the sorriest, dirtiest internal subversions in recent history.

He had been a Communist as long as Mao Tse-tung. He had been trained in the same school of thinking and was firmly dedicated to the Red cause. It became clear that there was no dealing with Ho except on his terms. He and the Communists would be the rulers. There would be no rule by the people. Opposition would be silenced by terror, assassinations and purges.

Dick Walsh of Los Angeles played one of the finest hands we have ever seen in the final round of the Open Pairs in Seattle.

West's double of Dick's one spade overcall was the new-fangled negative double to show strength in the unbid suits but his double of four spades was for business.

He opened his singleton club. East won with the ace, cashed his ace of spades and led the queen of clubs. Dick played low and if West had failed to trump in and lead a trump Dick would have had no further troubles but West did not cooperate.

After this series of plays Dick had lost three tricks and was left with two small clubs and only one trump in dummy to ruff them. Nevertheless Dick went ahead and made his contract by means of a double squeeze.

He started by cashing his ace and king of hearts. Then he ruffed one of his low clubs with dummy's last trump. The nine of hearts was led from dummy and ruffed. If the queen of hearts had fallen on this lead Dick would have had a parking place for his last low club but this didn't really make any difference to him. He simply cashed his last two spades and discarded two diamonds from dummy. This left each one with only three cards. Dummy with the jack of hearts and ace-eight of diamonds. West with two diamonds and the queen of hearts. East with two clubs and a diamond, and Dick with king-small of clubs and the four of diamonds.

East had been squeezed out of his diamond protection and, when Dick led his king of clubs, West had to hold the queen of hearts and was squeezed in turn.

"Beautiful play," said East. "And to think that I could have broken it up by leading a diamond at trick three!"

Ann Landers

Threaten No More Than You Will Do

Dear Ann Landers: Last summer our daughter started to smoke at age 16. I hated to see that lovely girl with a cigarette in her mouth and I told her so. She ignored my request that she stop. I decided to take away her allowance and I did. She later convinced me that she needed money for necessities, so I restored part of her allowance.

Finally I told her if she didn't stop smoking I would give her only one year of college. She continued to smoke. Last week I announced, "Either quit smoking or you will get NO college." Yesterday I caught her smoking and now I must make good my threat.

The girl is bright and talented. I am working full time to send our older daughter to college and would have to continue to work to send this one. Their father never made enough money for extras.

I say if smoking is more important to this girl than college I am a fool to work to put her through. What do you say? — HEARTSICK MOTHER

Dear Mother: In an attempt to win this battle you have gone out on a limb and saved yourself off. Moreover, you have violated two cardinal rules for raising children: (1) Don't promise or threaten that which you don't mean to deliver, (2) Make sure the punishment fits the crime.

Unfortunately, your daughter is using cigarettes as an expression of rebellion—a symbol of her independence. But you won't solve that problem denying her an education. Go to her and say: "I am opposed to your smoking because it is damaging to your health, it is a dirty habit and it is an expensive habit. I withdraw all threats, however, and I leave the decision up to you."

Dear Ann Landers: I was amused by your reply to the modest woman who objected to saleswoman intruding when she was stripped down to the altogether trying on girdles and brassieres. You were right when you said it was awfully hard work for a saleswoman to stuff a 44 backside into a size 38 girdle.

My cross was bathing suits. No sylph myself, I was overly sympathetic to my heftier customers. But I was astonished at how unrealistic they were about their figures. Many women needed my help to get into those swim suits because they insisted on buying suits which were two sizes too small. I often wondered who stuffed them in after they left the store.

Why didn't you suggest the most obvious solution to the problem, Ann? If a customer told me she didn't need help I did not try to help her. I merely wrote up the sale when she came out of the fitting room and handed me the garments.— NO BARGER INNER

Dear No Barger: Some of us fail to see a solution because it is so obvious. Thank you for pointing out something which I should have seen myself.

Confidential to Can't Believe It: Why are you surprised? It is no secret that many people live a lifetime together, and even raise families, but they never communicate in any meaningful sense. Their lives run parallel but never meet at a given point. This is the type of relationship you had with your husband.

"The Bride's Guide," Ann Landers' booklet, answers some of the most frequently asked questions about weddings. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Small Tornado Hits Michigan

By The Associated Press

A small tornado spun out of the high winds and lightning storms that battered southwestern Michigan Monday, leveling trees and damaging part of a house.

State Police said the tornado, apparently a small one, tore at a house in Cooper Township, Kalamazoo County, Monday evening.

The weather bureau would neither confirm nor deny the tornado.

No one was injured in the twister, and there was no estimate of damage to the house.

At Traverse City a newsboy's load of 73 newspapers was swept away from him by high winds, and scattered over the main street.

Passersby offered the newsboy, Mitchell Cullen, money to recoup his windblown losses.

Park Foe Says Election Rigged

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Chung Hee Park today ended his campaign for reelection with a strong denial of opposition charges that he plans to send 50,000 more troops to Vietnam if he is returned to office.

The front-running challenger, former President Yun Po-sun, wound up his campaign with a renewal of charges that Park's Democratic Republican party is using "an astronomical sum" of illegal election funds to buy votes.

The election is Wednesday with nearly 14 million South Koreans eligible to vote.

Park told a news conference he knows of no plans to boost Korean troop strength in Vietnam, nor is there a request from the Saigon government for more men. He said he wants to bring Koreans home from Vietnam as soon as the war is settled but that he sees no immediate prospects of that. Korea now has 45,000 troops in Vietnam.

Yun, 69, standard bearer of the Shinmin (New Democratic) party, originally opposed the Korean troop commitment on the ground it would weaken South Korea's defenses against North Korea and Red China.

Once the troops were sent, Yun eased his stand, saying he regarded the commitment as an established fact. He has made it clear he opposes adding to the present Korean force.

Yun told his news conference he is confident he will defeat Park. But he charged that Park's party has produced "ghost voters" in numbers equal to 15 per cent of the electorate as part of its "scheme to rig the election."

He also charged that the government had paralyzed news media by interference and suppression.

The government has denied the election-rigging charge and countered with a claim that the challengers are the ones who are planning to steal the election.

Park came to power in a 1961 military coup while Yun was president. He resigned from the army to run in the 1963 election and defeated Yun by only 150,000 votes.

Sing Into Spring

GRADESCHOOL CHILDREN from the Escanaba Area Public Schools romp around a "May Pole" Monday in The Spring Songfest portion of the Festival of Song program produced by the University of Michigan. The program, directed by Joan Knoetzer, featured University students Ruthanna Alexander of Fennville, Joe Costick of Randolph, Ohio, Carolyn Teich of Detroit and Ned Ferras of Ann Arbor leading the children in song. Festival of Song is an educational service of the University produced for statewide distribution by the University Broadcasting Service. It is broadcast into Escanaba classrooms twice each week by radio station WLSI as a public service. Over 800 students from the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades participated in the program Monday. (Daily Press Photo)

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Paul Harkonen of UPCAP reports that a Rock enterpriser read an advertisement offering $7 a pound for porcupine quills. The man went out and shot enough porcupines to provide a pound of quills, mailed them off to the advertiser, got a check and quit the business.

The incident was mentioned in discussion on the possibilities of developing Indian crafts in the Upper Peninsula. We have some Indian crafting now, including some that makes the purists wince.

There is, for instance, an enterprise in Mackinac County which is employing six Indians in the production of totem poles. Our Chippewas never used totem poles, but that doesn't seem to matter if there is a tourist about who'll buy one.

Our Indians didn't use teepees, either; they used wigwams, but when the novelty makers make Indian souvenirs they make teepees. They look more "Indianish", they say.

Plan Meeting Of Supervisors

The Upper Peninsula Supervisors Association will meet Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6, at the Iron Inn, Iron River. Clifford Johnson, president of the District, said William E. Dennison, secretary of the State Association of Supervisors, will brief the U. P. Supervisors on current legislation in Lansing.

The Friday afternoon program will be devoted to reports from a number of Upper Peninsula organizations and Federal agencies. The Friday evening banquet will be held at the Iron Inn and the Saturday morning session will be devoted to reports of committees, resolutions and old and new business, according to Secretary Kermit Tessmer of Daggett.

Kiwanians Hear Key Club Report

The Kiwanians were entertained by a group of 8th grade music students from the Junior High School.

Sally Dufour played a solo on the flute, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Chase, of the vocal music program at the school. Dennis Eastman and Pat Ness combined for a cornet duet, accompanied by Mrs. Chase. A saxophone quartet closed the program with Dave Short on the Lead-alto sax, Carol Fox, baritone sax, Regina Van Enkevort on the tenor sax, and Mary Pratt on alto.

City Reports:

More Industrial Building Coming

Additional commercial interest is being shown in the city-owned land west of U.S. 241 and south of the Danforth Road, it is reported to the City Council by City Manager George Harvey.

The area is located south of the site the city is providing for Bay de Noc Community College, and does not conflict with that use.

With the cooperation of the Escanaba Foundation and the City, Northern Motor Rebuilders are arranging to move to a new building in the area south of the Danforth Road. Presently the Rebuilders occupy a city-owned building on 1st Ave. N. where operations cannot be expanded.

Another industry considering removal is the Wilbert Burial Works, operated by Al Ness and located presently at 18th Ave. S. and Lake Shore Drive, the city manager reports.

Skeet And Trap Shoots Planned

The Delta County Sportsmen's Club will start its summer skeet and trap shooting at the club range on Wednesday evening, May 3, according to Tom Grenfell, chairman of the shooting program.

The range will open at 6 p.m. and shoots will be held each Wednesday throughout the summer.

The club range is located one-quarter mile west of U.S. 241 at the Gardens of Rest Cemetery, and is open to members. The public is invited to watch and to participate in the shooting events.

Grenfell said the skeet and trap shooting program offers an excellent opportunity for shooters to enjoy competition and to sharpen their shooting skills for the fall bird and waterfowl seasons.

Club members are eligible to compete in the U. P. Shooting Association events in Escanaba and other cities.

The Delta County Sportsmen's Club will host the U. P. Shotgun Championship shoot on Sept. 16-17 and the U. P. Fair Trap Shoot for two days during the U. P. State Fair. The events are sanctioned by the U. P. Shooting Association and trophies will be presented to the winners.

Shooters may bring their own ammunition, or 12 gauge ammunition is available at the range.

Four Arrested For Spearing Of Walleyes

A 17-year-old Gladstone boy has been fined and three juveniles will be cited to Probate Court for spearing walleyes in the Whitefish River.

David Phalen, 569 N. 8th St., Gladstone, was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in the Delta County jail by Justice Ross Davis after he pleaded guilty to the charge. Davis suspended $25 of the fine and the jail term, but put the boy on probation for one year.

If any terms of the probation are violated, the penalties will be enforced, Davis ruled.

The youths were arrested at 3:15 a.m. Saturday on the Whitefish River with more than 70 pounds of walleyes in their possession, conservation officers said. The fish had been illegally speared.

Conservation officers pointed out that lower portions of both the Whitefish and Rapid Rivers are closed to any type of fishing until May 21 because of walleye spawning activity. The Whitefish is closed from Chippeny Creek to the mouth and the Rapid River from Maplewood Bridge to its mouth.

Emphysema is said to incapacitate one of every 14 wage earners between the ages of 45 and 60.

Ness has been at that location for almost 25 years. The area is zoned Class A residential. "He operates under a non-conforming use permit and this prohibits him from expansion at that location," Harvey said.

"Ness is looking for approximately four acres of land, and he would erect a building of approximately 10,000 square feet. His specific request is for the southwest corner of city-owned property which is located at the intersection of the highway and the new Danforth Road," the city manager reported. The proposal will go to the City Council as soon as details are worked out.

United Parcel Post Service is also looking for a location for a facility for their use in Escanaba and with the cooperation of the City and the Foundation it is expected an agreeable proposal will be worked out, Harvey said.

United Parcel Post Service is interested in a parcel of land containing about 1 1/2 acres one which they would erect a building approximately 75 by 75 feet.

The extension of sewer and water service to the area is being undertaken with the assistance of a federal grant. The work will be done by private contract.

Concert Campaign Starts

The Delta County Community Concert Association, "kicked off" its membership campaign for the 1967-68 concert season Monday night at the Dells Supper Club.

Some 70 campaign workers turned out to receive materials and instructions for the drive which will continue throughout the week. Conrad D. Beck, president of the association, Mrs. Mary Cavadeas and Mrs. Robert Appel, membership chairmen, and Mrs. Amy Wilcox, New York representative of Community Concerts, spoke about next season's series.

Co-chairman for the program were Mrs. Frank Bender and Mrs. Kermit Bender.

Subscriptions to next year's concert series, which already includes three outstanding attractions, will be sought throughout the entire area. The association currently numbers over 950 members, near capacity of the William W. Oliver auditorium.

Any adult or student in Delta County may join the association by paying subscription dues. Should persons not be contacted by Association campaigners, dues will be received at the Chamber of Commerce drive headquarters or by calling 786-2650. Workers will be on duty from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday and until 2 p.m. Saturday at the chamber building.

Slated to head the next season's attractions is the well-received DeCormier Folk Singers group which, in concert here two years ago literally "brought down the house". Directed by Robert De Cormier, formerly the conductor of the "back-up" singers for Harry Belafonte, this concert organization amazes with its vigor and versatility.

Also on the schedule of concerts will be the Michael Maule "Dance Variations", and the explosions throughout the aircraft parking areas.

"We saturated the aircraft parking ramp," said Maj. Robert X. Piper, 36, of Salt Lake City. "The ground was obscured by smoke and dust."

The previous record for MIG kills in one day was seven shot down in dogfights last Jan. 2. The Communist losses Monday raised to 17 the number of Red interceptors reported knocked out in the past week—nine in the air and eight on the ground. It brought the total number of MIGs claimed by American pilots in the war to 56.

North Vietnam is reported to have had from 75 to 125 MIGs, most of them MIG17s which are not as maneuverable as the later MIG21s. However, Hanoi reportedly has been replenishing its air force from Red China and the Soviet Union.

Hit Industry Complex

In 93 missions over the North Monday, U.S. pilots also hit the Thai Nguyen industrial complex 38 miles north of Hanoi again as well as truck parks, bridges, storage areas and railroad yards.

The delta fighting broke out before dawn today when more than 100 Communists attacked a company of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division while it was still in night defensive positions.

C47 gunships, armed helicopters and artillery reinforced the American infantrymen. Three hours later another company reinforced the Americans and began a sweep of the area at dawn in an attempt to regain contact with the Communists.

U.S. military headquarters claimed 40 Communists were killed in the fighting.

Troops of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division, fought a day-long battle Monday with more than 500 North Vietnamese regulars dug in bunkers and caves in the central highlands 250 miles north of Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said documents found on bodies indicated the Communist battalion was part of the North Vietnamese 95B Regiment.

The fighting was in a remote, heavily wooded area just south of the La Drang River.

The American command said 81 Communists were killed in this action, while only one U.S. infantryman was killed and one was wounded. A U.S. spokesman explained that most of the enemy casualties were the result of air strikes and 90mm cannon on tanks which supported the American infantrymen.

Heavy fighting between U.S. Marines and North Vietnamese regulars along the Laotian border just south of the demilitarized zone tapered off today. A U.S. spokesman said that the Communists apparently slipped away to the west under a heavy barrage of U.S. air and artillery strikes.

Reading Program Plans Announced

The Summer Reading Program sponsored by the Escanaba Area public schools will begin Monday, June 19, it was announced today by Louis Diedrich, director of the program.

The program will continue for six weeks through July 28. Diedrich said that although the program is still being organized, present plans call for two separate instruction sessions each morning, one from 8 to 10 a.m. and the second from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

He indicated that city students would probably be enrolled in the early session because it would be easier for them to meet the early starting time and give bus drivers ample time to transport rural area students.

The remedial program is designed to serve students in post kindergarten and grades one through six in both public and non-public schools. It is financed by federal funds under Title I of the Elementary-Secondary education act.

It is expected that reading centers will be set up again this year at the Lemmer and Webster elementary schools and at Holy Name High School.

About 373 public school students and 187 non-public students are expected, all referred by classroom teachers.

Prior to the start of the program, a special in-service remedial reading workshop will be held for all staff members who will be teaching in the program. The workshop is set Wednesday through Friday, June 14-15-16.

In This Corner

with Roy Crandall

Coach Don Pfothenauer of Gladstone had a chance to see former Gladstone athlete Tom Domres in action in the University of Wisconsin intersquad scrimmage game last weekend in Neenah. The 240 pound defensive tackle was credited with an outstanding performance by John Coatta, new Badger coach, following the game. Members of the Escanaba High School coaching staff also attended the game.

Willow Creek Liddle, owned by Marvin Kasbom of Escanaba, took first place in the 15 inch male division of the Cherryland Beagle Club field trials at Traverse City. Hounds owned by Mac Davis and Jerry Dupont of Gladstone, Matt Lewis, Bob Stone and Joe Frossard of Escanaba also earned honors.

The Soo Blue Devils, competing without sprint star Neil DeRoche, won 11 of 14 events to sweep past DeTour and Brimley in a triangular track meet. Dave O'Gorman filled in capably for DeRoche as a triple winner in the long jump, 100 and 220 yard dashes. O'Gorman owns the best Class A-B distance in the jumping event in the Upper Peninsula this spring, going 20 feet 3 3/4 inches in a recent meet.

Dan Schram, former star football halfback and dashman at Gladstone High School, won both the sprints in a dual track meet. Schram stepped the 100 in 10.6 and the 220 in 22.6, only one-tenth of a second off the Tech school record. Northern's J. D. Nunn broke his own school record in the long jump with a leap of 23 feet 6 1/2 inches.

Marinette's track team, which will be in action here against Escanaba May 12, racked up another victory by whipping Oconto Falls, 74-44. Bob Bartkowiak won the shot put and discus and Rich Schoener the 100 yard dash and long jump to pace the Marines.

Great Northern Track Meet Here Thursday; Esky Defends Crown

The third annual Great Northern Conference track and field meet will be staged at the Escanaba High School field Friday, May 5, starting at noon.

Hosting the meet is Holy Name High School with John Butrymowicz serving as meet manager. Escanaba is defending champion as winner of the meet the past two years.

Among the athletes in action Friday will be three who own conference records. Jim Boyle of Escanaba set the Great Northern high and low hurdles records of 15.6 seconds and 21.0 last spring. Al Schupp of Iron Mountain owns the mile record of 4:45.1 and Jeff Franson of Kingsford has the long jump standard of 20 feet 7 inches.

Competing in addition to Escanaba and Holy Name will be Kingsford, Menominee, Iron Mountain and Stephenson. The meet schedules calls for preliminaries in the field events starting at noon and continuing through the finals. Prelims will be held in the running events starting at 12:30.

The first of the finals events, starting with the two mile run, will begin at 2:30. Admission of 50 cents for adults and 25 for students will be charged at the afternoon session.

The conference records:

O'Dell Leaves Sick List To Bolster Pirate Hopes

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates looked everywhere for a pitcher this past winter — except in the hospital.

That's where Billy O'Dell was, and the Pirates weren't expecting him to be of much help in stabilizing the shaky pitching corps that threatened to prevent them from winning the National League pennant.

The Pirates, however, are beginning to realize how good O'Dell looks now that he's forsaken the hospital circuit for the pitching rotation.

The veteran left-hander made a strong bid for a permanent spot in that rotation Monday night as he won his second game of the young season in Pittsburgh's fifth straight victory — an 85 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals.

O'Dell, now 34 and in his 13th major league season, almost was certain that the 12th season would be his last. But that was before doctors discovered he had Addison's disease. "I had been sick since the first part of last season," O'Dell related after holding the Cardinals to four hits before needing relief help in the eighth inning. "I was losing weight, I was nauseous, I couldn't eat or sleep and I was dizzy and weak."

"I started going to doctors, but no one knew what was wrong with me. I went to a lot of hospitals for tests, but they didn't help either. Finally this past February the doctors found out what it was."

Addison's disease, far from being a common illness, affects the adrenal glands and causes a loss of salt in the body.

"Now I'm on medication," said O'Dell, who reported to spring training nearly a month late, then stayed behind for an extra two weeks when the Pirates headed north. "I can't do without it. As long as I'm on it, I'm fine."

"I feel good and strong now. I don't feel any affects of it any more. I was anxious to go as long as I could tonight. I wanted to see if I would get tired."

The southpaw said he didn't get tired, but he did get a little wild, and Manager Harry Walker removed him in the eighth after he issued his sixth and seventh walks.

In the only other games played, Baltimore edged Cleveland 8-7 and Boston blanked California 4-0. Raul washed out New York at Minnesota.

O'Dell's first victory this season came in relief when he set down Philadelphia one hit for 5 1/3 innings. That performance earned him Monday night's start.

Manny Mota, who had two hits and drove in three runs, and Roberto Clemente, who collected three hits and knocked in two runs, O'Dell let in just one run, but the two men he walked in the eighth also scored.

Cleveland jumped off to a 5-0 lead against Baltimore in the first inning, but the Orioles fought back and were down 7-5 going into the eighth.

After Dave Johnson and Paul Blair singled, Russ Snyder came in to bat for Andy Etchebarren, and Bob Allen came in to pitch for the Indians. Woody Held then went up for Snyder and hit Allen's first pitch for a three-run homer.

Dennis Bennett hit a three-run homer against California, and that was all he needed to make his six-hit shutout pitching stand up. Bennett's complete game was the sixth in 15 games for Boston this year.

Boxing Champs Honor Promotor

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Boxing champions from several areas turned out Monday night to honor Herman Taylor, longtime promoter, celebrating his 80th birthday.

Boxing greats Sugar Ray Robinson, Jack Dempsey, Tommy Loughran, Tony Galento, Benny Bass, Joey Giardello, Pete Latzo, Sandy Sadler, Bob Montgomery, Billy Soose, Ernie Terrell, Lew Tendler and Billy Conn joined about 1,000 others in singing Happy Birthday to Taylor.

Taylor, who's been promoting fights for 55 years, in an emotional speech thanked "all of you who have been my friends for many years and who have taken the time to come here and be with me."

Robinson said it was under Taylor that he was able to develop into a champion and Dempsey recalled that Taylor promoted his fight here against Gene Tunney in 1926.

Said Dempsey, boxing "needs more people like this gentleman."

Taylor Reported Inked By Saints For $100 Grand

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A New Orleans sportscaster says Jimmy Taylor has signed a contract for $100,000 to play with the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League.

Neither Taylor nor officials of the Saints could be reached for comment on the report by Hap Glauco of WWL-TV Monday night.

Taylor, 31, a star at Louisiana State University in 1957, has played his entire professional career with the Green Bay Packers.

Taylor became a free agent Monday when the Packers refused to meet his salary demands. However, according to a source here, he cannot officially talk to any other NFL club until official notification is received of his free-agent status.

Glauco said Taylor's signing would be announced in three or four days after approval is given by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

There remains one formality — the Packers have to release Taylor and the talk here has it that Green Bay's Vince Lombardi plans to ask for a large chunk of dough for the release. New Orleans got Paul Hornung in the veterans draft from the Packers and obtained Gary Cuozzo as quarterback in a trade with the Baltimore Colts.

Coach Tom Fears has also been doing some sharp trading to get some topnotch linemen and drafted a number of good prospects.

With Taylor, Hornung and Cuozzo, the Saints could have sellouts for their home games this season. They will play in Tulane University's 81,000-seat stadium.

Montreal May Call On Gump

TORONTO (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens, facing the loss of hockey's most coveted team trophy, the Stanley Cup, may call on veteran goalie Gump Worsley tonight in an attempt to stop the ambitious Toronto Maple Leafs.

Worsley looked sharp after replacing rookie Rogation Vachon in the third period of Saturday's game, won by the Leafs 4-1. The victory gave Toronto a 3-2 lead in the best-of-7 series.

Montreal captured the National Hockey League's post-season title the past two years.

Toe Blake, the Canadiens' coach, said he would not decide on his starting goaltender until game time. Worsley, sidelined most of the season with leg injuries, starred in the final Cup series against Detroit last year.

"Vachon, Worsley, it doesn't make any difference," said Punch Imlach, Toronto's general manager-coach. "We'll wind it up here. We don't even have transportation booked for a return trip to Montreal. We haven't even tried."

The seventh game, if necessary, will be played in the Montreal Forum where the Leafs have beaten the Canadiens twice in the current series.

Meanwhile, Toronto has goalie problems of its own. Johnny Bower, the regular, has been out of action with a leg injury and did not practice Monday.

"I'm surprised he didn't come out to skate," Imlach said. "I guess he didn't feel he was ready."

Terry Sawchuk, a standout in Saturday's fifth game, again will replace Bower if the latter is unable to play.

Seattle Cage Mentor Makes Sure Guerin's Playing Days Are Over

NEW YORK (AP) — Richie Guerin, the St. Louis Hawks' canny floor boss, has bowed out as a player again and Al Bianchi, of Seattle's new National Basketball Association franchise is making it permanent the second time around.

Seattle Coach Bianchi pulled one of the big surprises at Monday's NBA expansion draft by selecting Guerin despite the Hawks' coach's announced retirement.

Guerin doubtless will continue to coach St. Louis but should he change his mind about playing — as he did last fall after retiring — he'll have to play for Seattle.

"Now I know he isn't going to play," Bianchi said at the draft session, where Seattle and San Diego — the two NBA newcomers — each picked 15 players from the 10 established clubs as part of their $1,750,000 entry fee.

"I don't want to have to worry about his coming back in the middle of the season. After all, they are in our division."

Bianchi was Johnny Kerr's assistant coach at Chicago last spring when Guerin stepped down as a player before the fledgling Chicago Bulls made their selections in the expansion draft. The Bulls passed him up while St. Louis was able to protect an extra player.

Guerin then switched signals, returned to the active list and led the Hawks to a second-place finish in the league's Western Division.

Jack McMahon, the San Diego pilot, was pleased to land forward Jon McGlocklin, who played for him last season at Cincinnati, in Monday's draft session.

"I didn't expect he would be on the list," McMahon said. "We feel we have a quick team and a good combination, although there is not a whole lot of size. We did better than anticipated."

San Diego picked up three big men — 7-foot Henry Finkel from Los Angeles, 6-8 Toby Kimball from Boston and 6-8 Wayne Mols from New York. Among McMahon's other selections were veterans Johnny Green and John Barnhill from Baltimore.

Dave Gambee from Philadelphia's NBA champions, Charley Vaughan from Detroit and Paul Neumann from San Francisco.

Neumann, however, has indicated he'll retire and become a freshman coach at Stanford University.

Seattle chose another San Francisco veteran, forward Tom Meschery, who also has announced his retirement. "I think I have a chance of talking him out of it," Bianchi said.

Others picked by Seattle included Walt Hazzard from Los Angeles, Rod Thorn from St. Louis, Henry Akin from New York and George Wilson from Chicago.

"We got some good kids," Bianchi said. "Some of those young guys never really got a chance. We had the same situation last year in Chicago and many of them came through for us."

ESCANABA ATHLETES, coaches and cheerleaders were honored at the annual Eskymo Fan Club dinner Monday night. Speakers included, from left, Harold Johnson, athletic director and retiring basketball coach; Dr. Vernon Johnson, master of ceremonies; Stan Albeck, main speaker; and Dick Craig, Fan Club president. ## Little League Final Tryouts Set Saturday

The final weekend of tryouts for the Escanaba Jaycees Little League 1967 season is slated Saturday at Royce Park beginning at 9 a.m. Candidates will be processed in the rotation that registration blanks are filed at Club 314. The annual player auction is tentatively scheduled for the following week with Player agent Paul Varigan in charge. Successful candidates will be announced the following day.

In the event there is sufficient player interest, and league personnel is able to recruit enough adult help, Escanaba will again have a minor league program with tryouts beginning sometime in June.

One of the greatest challenges at Little League Headquarters at Williamsport is the need to renew league personnel—managers, coaches, umpires and a range of other workers. If Little League is to continue to be an enjoyable experience for adults as well as the boys, the burden of making the program possible in the community must be shared equitably. Parents whose youngsters stand to benefit by a season of Little League play have an obligation to come forward to help.

In Escanaba, adult help, particularly managers for the parent league are recruited from the minor league program. Consequently, parents of boys enrolling for the first time should offer their services to the local league. They must replace parents of boys who leave the program at age 13.

Infusion of new personnel, new ideas, and enthusiasm is needed to keep the league on even keel and insure its permanency. Through national headquarters training assistance and programs are available for all who are interested.

Dallas Cowboys Retain Fullback

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys brought fullback Don Perkins out of retirement before he could even start it and Coach Tom Landry was quick to say that he figured his team would be stronger next fall than last season.

In the first place, I will have everybody back who played on the team that won the Eastern Division championship, then gave Green Bay a lousy battle in the National Football League championship game.

"The added year of experience and momentum generated by our good showing last season should mean we'll be stronger," Landry declared. "Of course, Green Bay may be stronger, too, but we're going to have the championship as our goal."

But he was quick to add that without Perkins, Dallas would have faced rough going indeed. Perkins is the fullback who had his finest season in 1966 when he gained 726 yards in being scored eight touchdowns and, according to Landry, wasn't about to let his ex fullback, a fellow who gained 4,585 yards in six years — get away.

Money just wasn't any object and Perkins was reported to have agreed Monday to sign a two-year contract at almost $15,000 a year.

However, Schramm would not give the figure, saying it was against club policy, and it was indicated elsewhere, including some big games, none of which Perkins himself, that he didn't get that much.

Tribute Planned For Ron Watson

The Gladstone Rotary and Lions Clubs will join with members of the community Monday to honor Ron Watson, publisher of the Delta Reporter, for exactly 20 years of service to the community.

Watson, 54, moved to Gladstone after purchasing the Reporter on May 8, 1947.

Reservations for the 100 tickets available for the 7 p.m. dinner program at the Gladstone Yacht Club can be made with Robert Hupy, Reuben Sjoquist, Donald Pavloski or Wallace Cameron.

Alcott Erickson, president-elect of the Rotary Club, will be master of ceremonies. Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, is scheduled to speak.

Watson, a native of Marion, Ind., began his printing career with the Greenville Daily News in 1927. Before coming to Gladstone, he also worked for the Isabella County Times at Mt. Pleasant and the Redford Record and the Highland Park in Detroit, as well as for Abbey Press and Post Printing.

His move to Gladstone fulfilled a longtime desire to own a newspaper.

A member of the Gladstone Lions Club, Watson has been extremely active in community affairs and promotion, serving as president of the Chamber of Commerce and with the Gladstone Industrial Development Corp. in efforts to strengthen the city's economy.

He is also a member of Memorial Methodist Church.

Cleaner Is Developed For Oil-Soaked Ducks

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Oscar the oil-soaked duck got cleaned up Monday and a lot of his gooey-feathered friends got new hope for the future.

The occasion was a demonstration sponsored by conservation officials in hopes of heading off disasters such as struck the duck population on the south Jersey Coast several weeks ago. Thousands of American Black Scoters were covered from bill to tail with a gummy residue when they landed in a large oil slick.

Over 2,000 died, unable to navigate properly. One lucky flock splashed to shore where humans painstakingly removed the oil and nursed them back to health.

A Trenton firm, using ultrahigh-frequency sound equipment, demonstrated for the state what it contends is an easier and quicker way to clean all the oil from a stricken duck's feathers.

The only hitch, according to a spokesman for the Alcar Instruments Corp., is that the technique also gets rid of the duck's natural body oils. The oils, which the birds need to survive, take up to two years to be replaced naturally.

In the de-oiling process, the duck is placed in a tank filled with a non-toxic detergent solution. A device at the bottom of the tank generates high-frequency sound waves which produce microscopic bubbles in the solution. The bubbles then collapse, forming high-intensity shock waves which scrub the oil off the duck.

After the cleansing treatment, which takes five minutes at the duck's 106-degree body temperature, the duck is rinsed, dried

Negro Hiring By Police Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negro hiring policies of Detroit Police Department and the Michigan State Police have been criticized by a special presidential panel.

At the same time, however, the two departments were praised for police efforts to overcome discrimination within their jurisdictions.

The report was released Saturday by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

"The proportion of nonwhite officers in police departments is far less than the proportion of nonwhite residents," the commission declared. "For example in 1966, four per cent of Detroit's policemen were Negroes, while 29 per cent of the residents of the city were Negroes."

Detroit's situation was acknowledged to be part of a pattern apparent in other large cities, but the commission pointed out that as a result "minority groups tend to see the police department as a white organization rather than representative of the community."

Radar Plane Survivor Willing To Fly Again

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—The lone survivor of the Air Force radar picket plane which crashed off Nantucket Island says he is ready to fly in the same type of plane again as soon as he is able.

"I like to fly," said 1st Lt. Joseph L. H. Guenet, 29, of Island Pond, Vt., at a hospital news conference here. "I believe the aircraft is basically a sound aircraft."

The deaths of 15 other crewmen in the crash Tuesday night brought to 50 the toll in three crashes of the huge, $7.2-million Otis-based planes within 22 months.

Otis has temporarily grounded the craft for inspection.

Congressional and Air Force investigators also are studying its safety.

Guenet, father of two young children, said the plane was at about 2,000 feet some eight minutes after taking off from Otis "when we felt something like a small explosion and then there was fire on the right side."

"We went into a dive and then leveled off and then we hit something hard," he said.

Fire All Around

"The first thing I knew after that I was under water and swimming up toward fire. When I broke the surface there was fire all around me. I could hear the sound of the flames and the waves. There wasn't anyone."

Guenet said he was at his post in the center of the plane as it prepared to ditch and could not tell if the pilot, Col. James P. Lyle, 47, maneuvered the burning craft away from Nantucket toward the open sea.

Guenet was one of the navigators on the plane.

"Col. Lyle did not talk to us except to tell us to prepare for ditching," Guenet said. "But that is normal procedure whenever you are over water."

Witnesses of the crash reported seeing the plane swerve away from the island and head out to sea, crashing about a mile off Nantucket's southern shore.

"I don't know if the aircraft exploded on impact," Guenet said. "I'm told it did. If it did I don't know how I survived."

"I knew I was in shock when I was in the water," he said, "because I remember being very angry at all boat owners because no boat would come out and pick me up."

"I could see antennae and lights on Nantucket but no boats. And I saw planes overhead, but they weren't doing me any good. I know it was ridiculous to think that way. But the most important thing was when that sling came down from that helicopter."

He said he was in the water, protected by a rubber exposure suit, for about 45 minutes before a Navy helicopter dropped a line and sling to him.
